

Forbes

The Most Beautiful Hotel And Resort Spas In Latin America

According to a recent study by the WYSE Travel Confederation, nearly half of all millennials say relaxing and avoiding stress is a primary motivating factor when booking travel. And what better way to find that zen moment than with a spa or massage experience? From revitalizing body work to facials designed to lift and nourish skin, your hotel spa might secretly be the sleeper hit of your trip.

So what if we told you that you could enjoy that massage all while soaking up some incredible local scenery? At these Latin American hotel spas, your wellness journey will also be an Instagram moment. From the beaches of Cabo to the rainforests of Costa Rica, here are the seven most beautiful hotel and resort spas in Latin America.

VIK CHILE | VIK CHILE

Millahue Valley, Chile: Vik Chile

Wine lovers will appreciate the fantastic, unobstructed vineyard views found at the Vik Retreats in Chile's wine-producing Millahue Valley—just two hours from Santiago. At the property's Wine Spa, sign up for a variety of treatments such as the Vineyard Recovery, employing the hotel's homegrown grapeseed oil and other essential oils. And from the hotel's pool, look across 11,000 acres of grapes and vines in the valley below.