Intergalactic travel may still be a dream for those of us not in the multimillionaire club, but these futuristic properties are taking us to infinity and beyond with their space-age styling...

Viña Vik

Millahue, Chile

Undulating metal sheets ribboning out underneath the mountains; a concrete 'lake' studded with boulders; and sci-fi detailing including mannequin bedstands, velvet ballgown headboards and supersized supermodel wallpaper. At vineyard-slash-hotel Viña Vik, art and wine intertwine for a slightly tipsy fantasy bordering on the surreal, with each of its 22 suites designed around a specially commissioned piece of artwork. If the multi-sensory madness gets too much, hop along to the wine spa for a retox-detox using homegrown grapes.
