CELINA CATALANO was born in Buenos Aires and is currently full time devoted to Image Consultancy. With strong doses of natural good taste and style, she began her career almost simultaneously as her friends started to request her advice on clothes and shopping. Her great love for fashion, design, shopping, and the fact that she lived in different countries made her develop a critical eye as regards aesthetics and a wider vision of style. That is how she started to professionalize her "hobby" by pursuing studies in Chile and abroad. Nowadays, apart from devoting herself full time to image consultancy, Celina also endeavors to succeed in her other passion, which is inspiring through her lectures and communicating her knowledge about Personal Image and Protocol and Etiquette. By creating her motto "Your attitude is what matters, your image depends on it" she intends to communicate that our attitude is the drive to achieve our goals.
